

Margolis-FDA Workshop Agenda: Identifying Key Competencies for Opioid Prescriber Education

Virtual Public Workshop

April 4, 2022, 1:00-5:00 p.m. ET

April 5, 2022, 1:00-4:10 p.m. ET

Agenda: Day One

1:00 pm Welcome and Overview

Mark McClellan, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

1:10 pm Opening Remarks from FDA

FDA leadership will review key takeaways from the October 2021 meeting and lay out expectations and aims for this meeting.

Speaker:

- Patrizia Cavazzoni, U.S. Food and Drug Administration

1:30 pm Blueprint for Health Care Providers Involved in the Treatment and Monitoring of Patients with Pain: An Overview

FDA will review the content of the Opioid Analgesics Risk Evaluation and Mitigation Strategy (REMS) Education Blueprint, along with other relevant FDA actions to ensure the safe and appropriate use of opioid analgesics.

Speaker:

- Mark Liberatore, U.S. Food and Drug Administration

1:50 pm SAMHSA's Substance Use Disorder Training Initiatives

The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) will provide an overview of their training initiatives on Medications for Opioid Use Disorder (MOUD) and other substance use disorder (SUD) topics.

Speaker:

- Yngvild Olsen, SAMHSA

2:00 pm Examining Core Competencies for Opioid Prescriber Education

Key competencies and strategies for effectively managing pain and recognizing and treating SUD identified by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) and National Academies of Medicine (NAM) Opioid Action Collaborative will be presented. Following the presentation, panelists will discuss basic knowledge and competencies required to support providers of all types for treating and monitoring patients with pain, and how these core competencies may be integrated into opioid prescriber education efforts.

Presenter:

- Eric Holmboe, ACGME and NAM Health Professional Education and Training Workgroup

Moderator: Mark McClellan, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

Panelists:

- Lisa Howley, American Association of Medical Colleges
- Paul Moore, University of Pittsburgh School of Dental Medicine
- Bobby Mukkamala, American Medical Association Substance Use and Pain Care Task Force
- Melissa Weimer, American Society of Addiction Medicine

3:20 pm BREAK

3:30 pm Professional Practice Gaps in SUD and Pain Management and Related Gaps in Current Prescriber Education

Following an overview of existing professional practice gaps and current educational content for healthcare professionals based on the recent NAM report Educating Together, Improving Together: Harmonizing Interprofessional Approaches to Address the Opioid Epidemic, panelists will discuss existing gaps in provider knowledge and competencies for management of pain and SUDs that may be addressed through educational efforts.

Presenter:

- Kathy Chappell, American Nurses Credentialing Center and NAM Health Professional Education and Training Workgroup

Moderator: Mark McClellan, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

Panelists:

- Daniel Alford, Boston University School of Medicine
- Janet Keane, Shatterproof
- Carolyn Kinney, American Board of Medical Specialties
- Dania Palanker, National Pain Advocacy Center

4:50 pm Closing Remarks

5:00 pm Adjourn Day One

Agenda: Day Two

1:00 pm Welcome and Overview

Mark McClellan, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

1:10 pm Identifying Lessons Learned from Provider Education and Continuing Medical Education (CME) Initiatives

This panel discussion will highlight promising federal, state, or health system initiatives that have been successful in expanding provider knowledge and addressing practice gaps related to pain management and SUD treatment. Panelists will discuss key elements of success and how lessons learned can be integrated into the Opioid Analgesic REMS Education Blueprint.

Moderator: Marianne Hamilton Lopez, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

Panelists:

- Kathryn Cates-Wessel, Providers Clinical Support System
- Julie Himstreet, Department of Veteran Affairs
- Joanna Katzman, Project Extension for Community Healthcare Outcomes (ECHO)
- Jan Losby, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- Margot Savoy, American Association of Family Physicians

2:30 pm BREAK

2:40 pm Future Directions and Next Steps for Shaping Prescriber Education Efforts

A panel of experts will discuss the current and future role of the FDA Opioid Analgesic REMS educational program in addressing evolving needs in prescriber education. They will also consider how FDA can collaborate with federal partners, licensing boards, accreditation organizations, and other healthcare stakeholders to address remaining educational and practice gaps and support targeted education across settings and provider types.

Moderator: Marianne Hamilton Lopez, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

Panelists:

- Marie-Michèle Léger, American Academy of PAs
- Sean Mackey, Stanford School of Medicine
- Alister Martin, Massachusetts General Hospital
- Graham McMahon, Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education
- Travis Rieder, Johns Hopkins University
- Lisa Robin, Federation of State Medical Boards

4:00 pm Closing Remarks

Marianne Hamilton Lopez, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

