

North Carolina Medicare-Medicaid Integration: Advancing Whole-Person Care

Monday, October 24th, 12:00-1:00pm EST

---

Background

North Carolina is in the midst of a major shift from fee-for-service to Medicaid managed care and other value-based care transformation efforts. As part of these reforms, North Carolina is required to integrate care for dual-eligible beneficiaries within five years of Medicaid managed care launch. The Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy, with support from Arnold Ventures, has developed potential options for Medicare-Medicaid integration in the state.

Objectives:

- Present proposed vision, goals, and potential options for Medicare-Medicaid integration in North Carolina.
- Discuss challenges, opportunities, and lessons learned from Medicare-Medicaid integration efforts

12:00 PM Welcome & Overview

Mark McClellan, MD, PhD; Director, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy
Arielle Mir; Vice President, Health Care, Arnold Ventures
Kody H. Kinsley; Secretary for Health and Human Services, NC DHHS

12:10 PM Fireside Chat

Mark McClellan, MD, PhD; Director, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy
Dave Richard; Deputy Secretary for Medicaid, NC DHHS

12:20 PM Potential Options for an Integrated Care Strategy in North Carolina

Brystana Kaufman, MSPH, PhD; Core Faculty, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

Objectives:

- Provide an overview of key implications from our quantitative and qualitative research on the Full-Benefit Dual Eligible (FBDE) population in North Carolina
- Outline the proposed vision, goals, and potential options for integration in North Carolina

12:30 PM Moderated Panel

Brystana Kaufman, MSPH, PhD; Core Faculty, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

Objectives:

- Understand priorities of policymakers, providers, beneficiaries, and other key stakeholders regarding care integration
- Describe how CMS and states are setting and implementing policies to facilitate integration
- Highlight key needs for dual-eligible beneficiaries and best practices for engagement to ensure that care integration produces meaningful improvement in their interactions with the health care system

Panelists:

- Tim Engelhardt; Director, CMS Medicare-Medicaid Coordination Office
- Leena Sharma; Deputy Director, Center for Consumer Engagement in Health Innovation, Community Catalyst
- Tom Wroth, MD, MPH; President, Community Care of North Carolina

12:55 PM Conclusion

1:00 PM Adjourn