

Collaborative Short-Term Action to Advance America's Health

February 29, 2024

3:00 pm – 4:45 pm

A Public Webinar

Webinar Agenda

3:00 pm Welcome and Overview of Major Themes

- Victor Dzau, President, National Academy of Medicine
- Mark McClellan, Director, Duke-Margolis Institute for Health Policy

3:10 pm Remarks from Federal Leaders

- Mandy Cohen, Director, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- Jon Blum, Principal Deputy Administrator and Chief Operating Officer, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services

3:30 pm Population Health Spotlight Mini-Panels

Mini-Panel 1: Reducing Burden of Respiratory Infections

Moderator: Mark McClellan, Director, Duke-Margolis Institute for Health Policy

- Carlos del Rio, Interim Dean, Emory University School of Medicine

Mini-Panel 2: Reducing Burden of OUD/SUD

Moderator: Victor Dzau, President, National Academy of Medicine

- Anne Zink, Chief Medical Officer, Alaska Department of Health
- Fred Cerise, President and Chief Executive Officer, Parkland Health & Hospital System

4:10 pm Path to Improving US Health Through Public-Private Collaboration

Panel:

- Charlene Wong, Senior Advisor for Health Strategy, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- Megan Ranney, Dean, Yale School of Public Health
- Bechara Choucair, Senior Vice President and Chief Health Officer, Kaiser Permanente
- Rhonda Medows, formerly President, Population Health, Providence St. Joseph Health

4:45 pm Closing Remarks & Next Steps

- Victor Dzau, President, National Academy of Medicine