DUKE-MARGOLIS AFFILIATED FACULTY

Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy Affiliated Faculty Members are regular rank Duke University faculty with a demonstrated interest in health policy and who contribute to the mission and goals of the Duke-Margolis Center.

The nature of collaborations will vary. Affiliates can be considered for Core Faculty Member status if and when their activities in health policy and collaboration with Duke-Margolis become more permanent and fulfill the criteria for a Duke-Margolis Core Faculty Member.

Criteria for appointment as Duke-Margolis Affiliated Faculty:

- Prior or simultaneous regular rank faculty appointment at Duke University
- Demonstrated interest in Health Policy
- Participation in Margolis research, education, or policy initiatives
- Participation in Margolis seminars, conferences, or community activities

Duke-Margolis Affiliated Faculty have access to the following resources:

- Access to Duke-Margolis conference meeting facilities in Durham NC and Washington DC
- Duke-Margolis communication support (e.g. editing, social media outreach, stakeholder communications)
- Invitation to Duke-Margolis public sponsored events and seminars
- Access to Duke-Margolis research collaboration opportunities

Duke-Margolis Affiliated Faculty are expected to:

- Contribute actively and positively to the Duke-Margolis mission
- Participate in Duke-Margolis activities
- Informally promote Duke-Margolis and its activities within Duke and beyond
- Attend annual Duke-Margolis Faculty Affiliate meetings

Applications for Duke-Margolis Affiliated Faculty status will be reviewed on a rolling basis by the Deputy Director of Academics and will be voted on by the Duke-Margolis Faculty Executive Committee.

The term will be indefinite but assessed every two years. Affiliated Faculty may be considered for Core Faculty Member status if/when activities become more permanent and fulfill criteria.

Faculty who are interested in an Affiliated Faculty appointment may submit a request directly to the Deputy Director or may be proposed by a current Duke-Margolis Core Faculty member. The request should be accompanied by a current CV and a brief statement (one page or less) of the faculty’s collaborations and/or health policy interests.

March 23, 2018