Reopening in an Era of COVID-19
June 23, 2020 at 12:30 – 2:30 pm ET
A webinar by the Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy and the Alexandria Summit

Objective: To explore issues, strategies, and policies for reopening the economy and public spaces in an absence of therapeutics and vaccines.

12:30 pm Welcome and Overview
Mark McClellan, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy
Andy Slavitt, United States of Care and former Acting Administrator, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services

12:50 pm Session One: Employer Needs
This session will explore safe back-to-work strategies for employers, in both higher and lower exposure-risk settings, with a focus on testing capacity, symptom tracking, and tracing and containment.
- Michael Sherman, Harvard Pilgrim Health Care
- Sri Kosaraju, Testing for America
- Rajaie Batniji, Collective Health
- Mara Aspinall, Arizona State University and Health Catalysts

1:35 pm Session Two: Public Sector Role
As we move toward reopening the economy, this session will explore public health considerations and considerations for vulnerable populations where government action will likely need to augment private sector efforts
- Rob Califf, Google, Verily
- Caitlin Rivers, Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security
- Robyn Stone, LeadingAge
- Raj Shah, Rockefeller Foundation

2:20 pm Summary of Next Steps and Closing Remarks
- Joel Marcus, Alexandria Summit; Alexandria Real Estate Equities, Inc./Alexandria Venture Investments
- Lynne Zydowsky, Alexandria Summit; Alexandria Real Estate Equities, Inc./Alexandria Venture Investments
- Mark McClellan, Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy

2:30 pm Adjourn