Interns will work 1:1 with their mentors to conduct rigorous policy analyses and communicate their findings. Individual tasks will be project-specific, but will include assignments such as literature reviews, data analyses and visualizations, and writing/editing a broad variety of work products, including project reports, policy briefs, blog posts, poster presentations and article submissions for peer review.

Desired Class Level(s): Graduate or Undergraduate Compensation: Paid, hourly rate dependent on education level
Approximate Length: 8 weeks between May and July 2020
Approximate Hours Per Week: 40
Application Deadline: January 22, 2020
Decision Notification Date: February, 14, 2020
Applicant Acceptance Date: March 1, 2020